Tuesday's Game:

Technical 2

The third game of the High Scho series at Catholic University Gymfound a double-header on tap in which Western defeated Eastern, 21 to 9, and the final contest was between Technical and Central, which was captured by the Manual Trainers, after a hard-fought contest, 22 to 11.

The Central-Technical game furnished the thrills for the fans around the court as some of the best basketball seen in the series was displayed by both teams. The Manual Trainers were off to a flying start and were never headed. Central closed up close on the leaders twice, but could no register the baskets that would tie the count. Hutchinson put Tech out in front when he registered a two-point with a basket from midfloor which was quickly followed by a shot Capt. Gosnell.

Tech Strong in Second Half.

Central was on the defense most of the time, which was an improve-ment over its previous showing in the series. Tech registered four baskets from the floor during the first half, while Central caged only one, and the intermission found the score:

Tech, 9; Central, 5.

After the rest period Tech came back strong and increased its lead was holding Central. while it was holding Central. The Manual Trainers displayed better passing and more accuracy in shooting baskets than in the first half. Central made a great rally in the third quarter, closing within two points of Tech, but the Machinists put on more steam and forged to the front with a rush that was too much for the Mount Pleasant lads. Central kept Lochler well covered. Central kept Loehler well covered so he had few shots in the open for the basket, but towards the last of the final period he registered two points from the floor, while Gosnell and Hutchinson were also contributing baskets that swelled the total for the Manual Trainers. O'Connor, Eastern Star.
